

AMERICANS REPULSE GERMAN ATTACK

RAID UPON U.S. TRENCHES NEAR TOUL A FAILURE

Three Prisoners Taken—Ground Strewn With Enemy Dead

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, March 1.—By the Associated Press—American troops repulsed a strong German attack this morning in the salient north of Toul. There were many American casualties, one of the killed being a captain who was graduated from West Point in 1917.

The raid was a complete failure, three German prisoners remaining in American hands. The ground in front of the American trenches was strewn with German dead.

A driving wet snow was falling this morning when the Germans opened fire on the American salient with every weapon at their command.

Seventy seven, heavy shells and gas shells fell in a perfect whirlwind on the American trenches for half an hour. At the same time other enemy shells in great numbers were dropping on the American battery positions.

The Germans, evidently thinking that the Americans in this section having had one taste of gas a few days ago, would fear it now, let loose great quantities of poisonous gas, but the men put on their masks and only a few were affected by it. So intense was the fire that the woods back of the salient were shot to pieces.

At six o'clock the barrage fire lifted on the trenches to the right of the salient and Germans numbering 240 came sweeping forward under protection of their fire, apparently intending to make a big haul, and jumped into what was left of the trenches, but there, instead of the easy time anticipated found the Americans all ready for battle. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting began.

One American captain rallied men with rifles and machine guns and went thru the American wire entanglements into No-Man's Land and there waited for the enemy, which he expected to be driven by his comrades from the trenches. He was right for soon groups of the enemy started back thru the wire entanglements. The Americans poured in a deadly fire, but unfortunately the captain was killed during the fight. He is the first member of the 1917 class at West Point to be killed.

While the Americans were in front of the wire entanglements and in shell holes, still fighting desperately, the American barrage fire began sweeping No-Man's Land, catching many running Prussians who had had enough of American method. The barrage swept back and forth, making sure of doing all possible damage to the foe.

When the enemy had been driven back out of the position the bodies of ten German soldiers were found in the American trenches. Two German officers were entangled in the wire and many bodies were in sight. Eight were visible thru the snowstorm at one point. The ground was littered with enemy hand grenades, boxes of explosives for destroying dugouts and incendiary bombs which they had no opportunity to use.

They managed however, to drop incendiary bombs in two dugouts which were destroyed by fire but no Americans were in them. If the Germans captured any prisoners which it is doubtful, there were not more than two or three possibly from a listening post. Of the missing many probably were buried.

Digging for them now is proceeding and others may be accounted for. Two German prisoners were wounded and the other taken was unhurt except for a welt on one of his hands where he was struck by a young American soldier when he showed fight after capture.

From the prisoners the American officers have secured much valuable information. He said: "I did not have a chance to do anything before an American jumped onto me and grabbed me by the throat."

The Germans had been preparing for the raid for three weeks and belonged to the 78th Reserve Division of Hanover. The prisoners had Russian coins in their possession and came into the trenches opposite just before the Americans took over this sector.

The Americans lost many killed and wounded including officers. The Americans displayed the greatest personal bravery and energy thruout the engagement and outfoiled the surprised enemy from the instant contact was established.

During the bombardment a town behind the American line was heavily shelled and there were some casualties.

MOONEY DENIED NEW TRIAL BY SUPREME COURT

Petition for Hearing of Decision Will Be Filed

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. March 1.—Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of murder in connection with a bomb explosion which killed ten persons here in 1916, was refused a new trial today by the state supreme court which decided there was no reversible error in the proceedings of the lower court which led to Mooney's conviction and death sentence.

A petition for re-hearing of the state supreme court decision of the Mooney case will be filed at the end of the twenty day period which is allowed for the filing of such petitions. It was announced by Maxwell McNutt, chief counsel for Mooney.

In Oakland where he spent today, Governor Stephens refused to comment on the court's action or to indicate what more he could make when Mooney's appeal for commutation or pardon comes before him. The defense has twenty days in which to file a motion for a re-hearing.

Abundant support was found in the evidence submitted at the trial of Mooney to support the defendant's guilt in connection with the explosion according to the supreme court's decision which was concurred in by all justices.

Refuses to Make Statement—Oakland, Cal., March 1.—Governor William D. Stephens, temporarily in Oakland, refused to say what he would do in the matter of making public President Wilson's letter until he had read the decision of the court and had learned what further action if any would be taken by counsel for the defense.

Officials Reluctant to Comment—Washington, March 1.—While all government officials are extremely reluctant to comment upon a federal action by the supreme court of California in the Mooney case it was plain many of them were disappointed that a new trial had not been granted in view of the special investigation made by the labor mediation commission at President Wilson's personal request and because of the effect the Mooney case was having in Russia.

The mediation commission expressed a good deal of concern that the contest between labor and capital in San Francisco had surrounded the Mooney trial with an atmosphere which caused an effect in this country and elsewhere much to be deplored and hoped that a new trial might be granted. The president was interested in the case because he was told that America's action in Russia was much embarrassed by returned Russians who pointed to the Mooney case to deride the American war aim of democracy.

So far as officials here can see the only hope for Mooney is in executive clemency by the governor of California.

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN WILL OPEN IN APRIL

Campaign Will Start on the First Anniversary of the United States Entry into the War—Will Last Three or Four Weeks.

Washington, March 1.—On April 6, the first anniversary of the United States' entry into the war the third liberty loan will open. There will be a campaign of three or four weeks.

In announcing the date tonight Secretary McAdoo said the amount of the loan, the interest rate and other features such as convertibility of bonds of previous issues, maturity of terms of payment, are yet to be determined and that new legislation will be necessary before plans can be completed. The fact that the amount of the loan is dependent on further legislation indicates that it will be for more than $3,600,000,000, the remainder of authorized but unissued bonds, and the fact that certificates of indebtedness now being sold in anticipation of the loan bear four per cent affords some indication of the interest rate. How large the loan shall be depends largely, however, on the fate of the pending war finance bill carrying an appropriation of a half billion dollars, and action on the railroad bill, with its appropriation of a similar amount.

Altho Mr. McAdoo made no specific announcement it is now taken for granted in official circles that there will be but one more loan before June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

The statement concerning the campaign was made at this time Secretary McAdoo explained to give every community time to prepare for the bond sale and he strongly advocated popular demonstrations of patriotism on the day of the opening of the loan and the second year of war.

WAGE ARBITRATION INQUIRY NEARS END

Taking of Testimony Will Be Completed Today—Packers Will Call Last Witness Today After Which There Will Be Given Several Days to Rebuttal.

Chicago, March 1.—Taking of testimony in the Packing House wage arbitration is nearing completion. The packers expect to call their last witness tomorrow after which there will be several days given to rebuttal testimony and arguments of counsel before Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler the arbitrator takes the case under advisement.

At today's session Chester S. Churchill, advisory superintendent for Swift & Co's plant at Chicago, Denver, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph, East St. Louis, St. Paul and Fort Worth, testified that in his opinion it would be impractical to install the eight hour day without extensive alterations in buildings and equipment because of lack of tanks and cooling room space. He said the change would decrease production of the plants during the war. The witness said he had not seriously considered the adoption of the eight hour day until last summer. He believed in extra compensation for overtime and holidays and said Swift & Co. never worked men overtime if it could be avoided.

Attorney Frank P. Walsh, for the employees asked the witness if he did not think there would be a great saving of men, energy and money if the government operated the packing plants during the war. The witness declined to express an opinion on the subject.

Attorney Walsh read statistics tending to show that the big packers had not been operating at their maximum capacity for several months. He referred to a decrease in the price of hogs in Chicago of 50 cents yesterday and 40 cents the day before and asked the witness if the packers at times did not refuse to buy livestock so as to depress prices.

Mr. Churchill said he did not have anything to do with buying livestock. Attorney Walsh said the packers only bought 12,000 hogs in Chicago yesterday, altho they have a killing capacity of 35,000 and that as a result of the small amount purchased 25,000 were left over unsold until today.

MORE RULES ISSUED BY FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

Limit Trade Profits In and Regulating the Distribution of Frozen Poultry and Cold Storage Eggs.

Washington, March 1.—Rules limiting the trade profits in and regulating the distribution of frozen poultry and cold storage eggs were issued tonight by the food administration. They become effective tomorrow and it was announced before the approval of the trades.

The statement says: "The original storer of poultry in a cold storage warehouse may be allowed an advance over cost not to exceed six per cent; a commission merchant selling frozen poultry for an original storer may receive a commission not exceeding five per cent on the cost of the poultry and a wholesaler, a jobber or a supplier of hotels and institutions may receive an advance over cost to each dealer of five per cent, ten per cent or fifteen per cent. The storer of eggs in a cold storage warehouse may be allowed an advance of six per cent over cost, a commission merchant selling for an original storer may receive a commission not exceeding four per cent, a wholesaler may receive an advance of four per cent and a jobber selling in original packages may receive an advance of five per cent. In selling candied storage eggs the actual net candle loss is considered part of the cost and jobbers, suppliers of hotels and institutions and retailers operating under license are allowed advances of ten per cent, 12 per cent and fifteen per cent respectively over cost.

"It is expected by the food administration that most of the trading in frozen poultry will be at smaller margins of profit than those given. These maximums are intended to cover the most expensive methods of distribution in the several classes. Reduction in the number of distributive steps have been kept in mind in formulating these rules."

THREE NEGROES ARE LYNCHED BY MOB

RAYVILLE, March 1.—Three negroes whose names were given as Jim Lewis, Jim Jones and Will Powell were lynched by a mob of white men near Delhi, La., in an isolated section of Richland Parish, last Tuesday, as the outgrowth between white and negroes near Delhi Sunday, when a white farmer and a negro were killed according to reports received here today.

The report of the lynchings as received from Delhi late today said two negroes were hanged by the mob and the third was shot and killed as he attempted to escape.

Fighting between white farmers and negroes occurred last Sunday near Delhi, when several negroes, including Bolivar Jones, were accused of stealing hogs in that section. Later it was reported the white farmers started out to round up the negroes who had been accused as instigators of the trouble.

MANY SUBJECTS TOUCHED IN HENRY INVESTIGATION

Reading of Letters Consumed More Than the Usual Session

CHICAGO, March 1.—Letters introduced today in the federal trade commission's investigation of the packing house industry as read before Examiner B. M. Manly of the commission by Francis J. Heney, its counsel touched many subjects and concerned such wide separated items as the Argentine labor troubles, leaky cans of corn beef, specifications for army and navy bacon, gift packages of soap and toilet articles and the quality of a large consignment of hams rejected by the navy.

The reading consumed more than the usual session and at times was varied by comment from the examiner of Mr. Heney. At its completion adjournment was taken until next Monday.

No hint of the probable duration of the inquiry was given. The letters and documents introduced this week are all exclusive of the papers taken from the private vault of Henry Veeder of Swift & Co. by Mr. Heney on a search warrant. Whether these letters "from the vault" will be presented in the investigation depends on the outcome of an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals by which Mr. Veeder is seeking to recover possession of the papers. The appeal is set for argument next Wednesday.

Extracts from some of the letters introduced today by Mr. Heney are: "Under date of January 18, 1918, F. E. Wilhelm of the Cudahy Packing company was quoted as having written to the South Side station of the Cudahy Packing company at Omaha relative to a meeting of representatives of Armour, Swift, Morris, Wilson and Cudahy companies with Dr. Durand of the food administration, that Dr. Durand wanted to know the actual stocks of frozen meat in the country. He found out the letter said that the amount was about 30,000,000 pounds.

"The doctor then said," the letter read, "that they were going to buy big quantities of beef every month and he was skeptical about our being able to take care of the orders. He thought the quantity would be a minimum of 6,000,000 pounds a week. He asked for suggestions on how to provide this quantity. His first thought was to have a contract; week, but was shown instantly that was impracticable as there was no chance of us freezing our entire week's kill and the effect of such a measure would be as bad probably as the present embargo on fuel.

"Mr. White of Armour & Co. suggested that each packer freeze ten per cent of his kill and on this basis we should be able to secure 6,000,000 pounds of meat if the receipts ran as usually on expected."

The letter said that it was decided to try the plan.

Continuing the letter said: "Dr. Durand said that the situation would have to be handled in some way to avoid advancing the cattle market, that that was the thing that absolutely must not come about and if it did he would take drastic measures to prevent it. He hinted that if it couldn't be worked out they would have to go into the question of closing up the branches; that where we had branches side by side that they would choose at certain points.

"We are really on trial to see how we behave and we can take care of this export business without putting things out of condition in this country all right."

Reference to inspection of meats by government inspectors was contained in a letter addressed to R. E. Ocum of the Chicago Cudahy company. Lack of co-operation the burden of previous messages received this comment:

"Regarding lack of co-operation between government employees and our foremen and superintendents would say there is no question but what there is lack of co-operation and it is wholly on the part of the government and it is galling to think that we have to stand for complaints of this character with absolutely no warrant whatever.

"The lack of co-operation mentioned is the ones we have to a young lieutenant inspecting hams at Sioux City who had never inspected a ham in his life. In regards the leaky cans being packed at night time is all rot. The fact of the matter is we have an enemy in our camp up there as the quartermaster's department knew at Omaha that they were going to be leaky before they were received, getting a letter from Sioux City stating to examine certain marked cases, which he did and found four leakers. So it is evident from this that we are harboring an enemy at that point.

"Cameron is familiar with the affair and it isn't likely that any other leakers will go out of there. The ones received here we are reprocessing."

The letters is signed the Cudahy Packing company.

War News Summarized

American troops, in a desperate hand-to-hand battle, have repulsed a heavy German attack on the salient north of Toul. There were a number of Americans killed and wounded, including some officers. One of the dead was a captain who had been graduated from West Point last year. The Germans suffered heavily, leaving ten dead in the American trenches, while the ground in front was strewn with bodies of the enemy. In addition three German prisoners remained in the hands of the Americans.

In the same sector the American artillery has been taking revenge for the German gas attack early in the week and German positions have been demolished by the storm of shells sent over by General Pershing's men. In addition to fighting in the Toul sector, the Americans have been active just north of Chemin des Dames, where they have taken part in repulsing a German attack.

A German official statement says that ten Americans were taken prisoner in the latter sector. The fighting in which the Americans participated was near the village of Chavignon. It has been known for some time that Americans, probably members of one of the national guard divisions taken to France some time ago, were along the famous Chemin des Dames sector, but the German statement reveals their locations more exactly than anything as yet received from the fighting front.

A few more Americans have been taken to field hospitals near Toul suffering from the effects of gas poisoning. These men were not in the trenches when the German gas attack was launched but ventured into the danger zone without gas masks and were overcome by the fumes which had settled into shell holes and low places. So far as known the gas casualties number six dead and about eighty overcome. Of the latter only one case is considered to be grave.

An ultimatum has been handed to the Russian Bolshevik government by the German commander on the eastern front, who has given the Russians three days in which to sign the peace treaty demanded by the Germans. Coincident with this demand the German advance into Russia has been resumed. There are apparently three columns of Germans advancing into Russia. One is near Luga, midway between Pskov and Petrograd; one is said to be at Pskov, midway between Pskov and Vitebsk and the other is at Sebezh, eighty miles east of Vitebsk. An official report says that the German troops had reached the right bank of the Dnieper river north of Kiev.

That the situation in Petrograd has become critical is reflected in the report that the American and Japanese ambassadors have reached Volodga the capital of the Russian government of the same name lying far to the east of Petrograd. British and French embassies also have left the Russian capital but nothing is known as to their destination.

Reports forwarded by the way of London say that the Russian troops are destroying railroad property and burning stores as they retire before the Germans. At no point is there serious fighting reported, but the advance of the Germans is said to be cautious.

It was announced in a despatch that Austrian troops have begun to advance into Ukraine. This movement is stated in response to an appeal from Ukraine, probably due to the operations of the Bolsheviks there.

Dr. von Seydler, the Austrian premier, said last week that Austria was not participating in the invasion of Russia, adding that Austria is at peace with Ukraine.

An interesting sidelight on the conditions at the beginning of the war was revealed by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister during an address at Paris. He declared that he could prove by documentary evidence that Germany rendered the war inevitable. He said that on July 31, 1914, Germany demanded that France should give over the fortresses of Toul and Verdun as a guarantee of the neutral of peace Germany. M. Pichon added, after to restore the fortresses after the close of the war with Russia. Germany declared war on Russia August 1, 1914, and on France Aug. 3.

German trench raiding operations have been repulsed by the French in several sectors of the line. At Chavignon where the American troops were taken prisoner the fighting was very severe. An attack by the Teutons near Butte de Meisil resulted in the capture of a French position but an immediate counter attack evicted the Germans. The British troops carried out successful raids north of the Ypres-Staden railroad and captured a few prisoners. On the other sectors of the front nothing of interest is reported. Among the terms of peace communicated to King Ferdinand of Roumania by the Central Powers was a demand that Ferdinand abdicate in favor of his brother Prince William of Hohenzollern. Prince William renounced all claim to the throne on the accession of his uncle, Prince Charles, in 1886.

He was in command of a part of the Teutonic army which invaded Roumania in December 1916, and at that time issued a proclamation declaring himself the rightful heir to the throne.

U.S. WAR EXPENSE OVER A BILLION DOLLARS MONTH

Total Expenditures for Month of February $1,002,878,608

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The money cost to the United States still running near a billion dollars a month. Despite official forecasts of steadily increasing expenditures from month to month the government's outlay in February according to a treasury statement issued today, was slightly less than in either January or December and would have been approximately the same if the month had been as long as other months. Expenditures amounted to $1,002,878,608, of which two-thirds, or $665,400,000 was for ordinary war expenses and $337,478,608 was in loans to allied governments. Corresponding expenditures were $1,090,000,000 in January, $1,105,000,000 in December and $982,000,000 in November.

The net balance in the general war fund was swelled today to $1,073,000,000 above the billion dollar mark for the first time since the middle of December. By the inflow of $252,000,000 from sale of certificates of indebtedness of the current $500,000,000 block which will close next Tuesday. More than four fifths of this huge government working fund was distributed thruout the country in depository banks, so that there was no big accumulation of idle dollars in the treasury. The total cash assets of the government today were $4,027,918,548, which included $2,411,135,506 go. $491,673,559 silver and the balance of the reserve.

For general the government still is relying mainly on borrowings thru liberty loans and certificates of indebtedness, as the war tax dollars have not yet begun to roll in from income and excess profits taxes. Payments of these are due June 15. In effect however, about $1,125,000,000 of these taxes already have been paid thru the purchase of certificates which will be received later in payment of taxes, but receipts from this source are listed under the public debt rather than under internal revenue.

Actual receipts from internal revenue since last July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, have been about $520,000,000 and it is estimated that the total receipts up to next July 1 will be $3,400,000,000. Customs and miscellaneous revenue have swelled the total ordinary receipts this year to $768,677,000 and receipts from liberty loans, certificates war savings and other public debt sources have been $9,116,688,000, making the government's total receipts in eight months $10,586,684,000.

The war savings movement has brought in $76,000,000 in the three months it has been under way. Total disbursements in the eight months have been $10,847,709,000, a little more than receipts. Of this huge sum $3,811,556,000 has gone for internal expense most of which was caused by the war, $3,466,329,000 in actual payments to the allies, $14,000,000 for purchase of farm loan bonds and most of the balance for redeeming temporary certificates of indebtedness issued in anticipation of liberty loan campaigns. The bulk of the funds now needed for federal loans to farmers about $11,000,000 a month is being supplied from the treasury fund of $100,000,000 set aside for the purpose rather than thru private sale of farm loan bonds.

The cold weather blockade and inability to move grain has caused a decline in the exports of wheat.

If Germany waits too long for that western offensive the allies may conclude to try it.

The German gas offensive against American troops is in full accord of their "campaign of frightfulness" policy.

Japan and China should be allowed to enter the war in Russia. Their well organized armies might help protect Siberians from the Huns.

Today is being celebrated by the citizens of Texas the anniversary of the declaration of the state's independence in 1836.

The rule of silence is to be disregarded to a large extent in Illinois state prisons, as tending to deception and disobedience. It should have been abolished long ago.

Ex-President Taft deprecates the work of "whispering traitors," a phrase which truly characterizes a class of quiet, persistent men who do their traitorous work so insiduously.

"There will be no German revolution until the German soldiers come home from the trenches," says Mr. Gerard. The allies are doing their best to drive them out of the trenches and send them home.

Austria is not especially war like but will fight if she has to. She sees no reason for continuing the fight in Russia and begins to doubt whether it is best to continue in the west, where Germany's interests alone are at stake.

"Canteens on wheels" are the latest in Red Cross work. They are really kitchens on wheels to furnish hot food to soldiers in first line trenches. The old saying that to keep a man in good humor is to keep him well fed is recognized in this work.

Illinois led the Union in farm products last year, the value of products totaling $842,042,000, with Texas second, $788,983,000, Iowa $783,488,000, Ohio fourth. It sets a high goal for farmers to reach in 1918.

The selective draft has proven the most effective and quickest and cheapest way of obtaining men for the army. The provost marshal general has announced that it cost the government $4.93 per man. The per capita cost for volunteers is very much higher. In Illinois the cost averaged $4.13 per man.

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION.

The Mississippi Legislature has been petitioned by Gulfport and by Harrison County to abolish the Mississippi Centennial Exposition planned for next winter, and strong opposition to the proposal has arisen. About $500,000 was raised for the project, which was widely advertised. Postponement on account of the war was later urged, and now, it would seem, abandonment of the enterprise is possible. Inasmuch as tens of thousands of Americans, barred from Europe on account of the war, are looking for some place in their own country to visit, where they have never been before, or, at least, are wishing to see something which they have never seen before, the time originally set would seem opportune for the Mississippi Centennial Exposition.

CARING FOR RETURNING SOLDIERS.

Soldiers, returning from military life to follow civil pursuits, when the war is over or if invalidated from service will be allowed to hold any position in the civil service, regardless of the kind of service, provided they are still able to perform the required work or pass the examination. The tendency of the commission will be to give preference in cases of the kind rather than reject them. This information is contained in a letter to the American Red Cross organization of New York, in answer to a request for a ruling from the commission relative to its attitude on regulations toward returning soldiers.

Paul Bitschenauer, secretary for the commission in the reply stated that it is the commission's policy "to give utmost consideration to cases of this kind and that there is nothing in the rules or regulations to prohibit their employment."

MARY LOGAN.

The Christian Science Monitor has the following about Mrs. John A. Logan, a woman loved and honored by many in this state:

"Mary Logan is one of the group of remarkable women that not merely attract, but compels the attention of the open-minded student of American history. As the wife of General John A. Logan, of Illinois, she was for years one of the best-known women in the Middle West. It used to be said of her that she could name every Republican politician in Illinois, of any consequence to her husband. It used to be said of her, also, that it was rather her ambition than his that secured for him the highest rank ever achieved in the Civil War by a non-West-Pointer, a high place in the councils of the nation, a high place in the Republican Party, and a prominence that came near landing him in the presidency. A charming woman and a natural politician, she wielded a strong and good influence in the political life of Washington for more than a quarter of a century. Mary Logan deserves to be placed beside Dolly Madison and Jessie Benton Fremont.

"The other day, in Benton, Ill., in celebration of a Logan anniversary, the old home of the soldier and Senator was reopened in a restored condition, and within it have been put a large number of the things collected by the couple in their early as well as in their later days. Benton is in that part of Illinois sometimes called 'Egypt,' because of its resemblance to the Nile country, and Logan bore two nicknames, 'Black Jack' and the 'Swarthy Egyptian.' His wife was Mary Cunningham, a typical border western girl whose parents like her husband's, had contended with the Indian and the wilderness. She brought into her social circle of after years a vivacity and originality that gave her a bearing, and, through all the mutations around her, she retained those qualities that made her a leader wherever she elected to make her presence felt.

FRENCH GRATITUDE.

The gratitude of the people of France for the aid which America is giving in the present war is again shown in the bulletin published by the Paris Chamber of Commerce. The following tribute is paid in a recent publication entitled, 'Facts About the War,' sent out by the official commercial organization of Paris:

"Homage should be paid to the untiring and beneficent activity of the American Red Cross. Apart from all its bountiful gifts to the armies, hospitals and ambulances of the United States, in October, 1917, it appropriated a sum of 5,000,000 francs to the relief of the needy families of men at the front. It was also the American Red Cross which came to the help of French children living in the zones liable to bombardment by hostile aeroplanes. Removing them from the cellars in which they were living, it placed them in homes and establishments created for the purpose in places of safety, and is now caring for them. It has established canteens, built hospitals, and schools for educating war orphans; it has rebuilt some of the French villages that had been laid waste, and struggled to prevent the spread of tuberculosis, in which effort it was aided by the philanthropic efforts of the Rockefeller institute. The expenditure for these charitable purposes, up to November 1, 1917, amounted to $41,000,000, $27,000,000 of which were spent in giving relief and assistance in Europe, while the total amount of donations made to the American Red Cross was about $80,000,000. We have briefly stated the chief facts connected with the magnificent work accomplished by the great republic beyond the seas. Whatever the length and vicissitudes of this conflict may be, it gives the defenders of the world's liberty not only the certitude of ultimate victory, but new faith in the grandeur of the ideal for which they will fight on 'till the end.'"

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

Winter Weariness.

I'm tired of snow, I'm tired of sleet, I'm tired of storms that save the wheat I'm sick of wintry weather. I try to be a cheerful guy, I strive to chirp and chortle, and hand some glee, as I pass by, to every sighing mortal to find some joy in everything is always my endeavor; but how can one rear up and sing, when winter lasts forever? How can a minstrel vat his lyre to glad and pleasing numbers, when he has naught to feed the fire, and freezes while he slumbers? Each day I think the cold will break, the winter be exhausted; and every morning when I wake I find my whiskers frosted. Each day I see some hopeful sign that spring at last is coming; and in the night, at half past nine, I hear a blizzard humming I'm tired of chilblains in my toes, I'm tired of influenza; I'm tired of every wind that blows from the Arctic circle, I'm tired of ice in sheets and peaks, of ashpits large and dirty; I'm tired of every blast that shrieks from up around Alberty. I'm tired of grates and easy chairs, when I'd be out choo-chooing; the climate's built for polar bears, and hence my loud boo-hooing.

News Notes.

S. S. Gladney of Ellsberry, Mo., and Charles Robertson of Manchester were business visitors here Friday.

Word was received here today of the serious illness of Charles D. Taylor, at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Mr. Taylor has been in the southwest for the past year on account of his health and his friends here will regret to learn of his present critical condition.

A message which reached here today told of the death of Tilden Campbell of Jerseyville which occurred Thursday at Hot Springs, Ark., after an illness of considerable duration. Mr. Campbell was born 8 miles northwest of Hancock County, 42 years ago. He was married to Miss Nellie Lyons, who resided west of Winchester several years ago. For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. Campbell resided here, but moved first to La Harpe, Ill., and later to Jerseyville. He leaves to mourn his loss, the widow, one son, Russell, and two daughters, Velma, and the baby. No arrangements have been announced regarding the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wills today received a letter from their son Jesse in France with the American Expeditionary Force. The communication which was written Feb. 6th, states that he is well and recently spent six days leave of absence in Paris which he very much enjoyed. WHEAT FLOUR SALES
ON NEW BASIS

Flour and Substitutes Can be Had Now Only in Equal Quantities.

As mentioned yesterday the order of the food administration requiring the purchase of an equal amount of substitute with purchases of wheat flour is effective today. A city resident can purchase a 49 lb sack of flour at one time, and an equal amount of substitute, and a resident of the county may purchase double the amount of flour with double the amount of substitute. Rye flour is not in the list of substitutes and there is no special amount of limit of this flour that a consumer may purchase.

One of the substitutes of wheat flour is corn flour and many purchasers follow the plan of mixing corn flour in with the wheat flour. Unless a considerable percentage of the corn flour is used the average person cannot tell the difference between the mixed flour and the pure wheat flour. Some years since the mills were in the habit of putting a certain percentage of corn flour in with the wheat but when the pure food agitation came along a miller who made this mixture was subject to a fine for adulteration. Now the situation has changed absolutely and the mixing of corn and wheat flours is encouraged.

The list of substitutes which a consumer may buy at the same time he makes a purchase of wheat flour has been given several times before but is repeated now because the ruling requiring purchase of flour and substitute in equal amount is effective from this time: Corn flour, corn meal, edible corn starch, hominy, corn grits, barley flour, rolled oats, oat meal, rice, rice flour, potato flour, sweet potato flour, buckwheat flour, cotton seed flour, kaffir corn flour, feterita flour, soya bean flour, peanut flour, casava flour, taro flour and banana flour.

MANY FARM TRANSFERS
RECORDED HERE FRIDAY

Forty Eight Instruments Filed in Office of Circuit Clerk—Farm Lands Sold Run to Big Values—This Year Promises to Bring New High Levels.

Forty eight instruments were filed for record Friday in the office of C. W. Boston, circuit clerk and recorder. The number was not quite as large as was true on the same date a year ago but the fees were somewhat larger than those on the previous date. The facts about some of the transfers have previously been made public—that is, at the time the contracts of sale were drawn.

A number of land transfers are included in the list below wherein the prices paid were more than $200 per acre. One farm sold at $250 per acre. It is interesting to note in this connection that there have been predictions made that before the present year is over Morgan county land will touch the highest price it has ever known, and the $300 mark is often mentioned.

One man who recently made a large farm investment here says that one thing is certain, either land here will go higher, or prices will become lower in Macon county and some other counties of like class where the price levels are considerably higher than here. Soil conditions are considered about the same in Morgan, Macon, McLean and other counties in central Illinois which might be mentioned. Among the transfers just recorded are the following:

Grant Graff sold to Charles Tondick a tract of 160 acres of land, three miles east of Jacksonville described as the west half of the southeast quarter of section 8 and the west half northeast quarter of section 17, all in township 15, range 9. The consideration was $33,600, which means a per acre price of $210.

The trustees of Rountt college transferred to C. J. Ashbaker 160 acres of land in 14-14-10. This land was known as the Robert Rook farm and the consideration was $31,700. The property was decided to Rountt college by the late Harvey J. Rountt. John E. Pires and Samuel Nunes as executors of William Nunes have sold lots 222 and 223 in the Car Shops addition to Edward Brunk for $900.

Harriet Dougherty transferred to W. H. Rohrer 90 acres of land located in section 36, township 13 and range 8. The consideration named in the deed is $1.

The deed was placed on record whereby Arthur Williams of Denver has transferred to Carl Aufdenkamp 140 acres in 32-16-11. This farm is located about two miles northeast of Chapin and the consideration is $35,000. This is a price of $250 an acre.

R. S. and Lavina Rawlings sold to J. E. Rawlings a small tract in 6-13-9, for $900.

Mildred Powell and Mary Dewees transferred to Chris Horner a tract of land in 35-16-11, located about 7 miles northwest of Jacksonville. There are about 90 acres in this tract and the consideration was $12,541.20.

The deed for the transfer of residence property on Pine street by Stanley Quisenberry to Mrs. Emma Graff was placed on record. This property has already been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Graff to Otis Hoffman. Edward McGinnis sold to McGinnis & Breen lot 1 in R. C. Johnson's subdivision of lot 12 of Church Heirs' addition to Jacksonville, consideration $1.

Alice McGinnis transferred to A. A. Curry, 40 acres of land located in 31-15-9, consideration $1.

Grace and W. H. Self transferred to A. H. Hall land in 12-15-11. This is an 80 acre tract adjacent to the Morgan county home farm. Mr. Hall has been operating the Wall Patterson farm northwest of the county home and this has been leased by Clyde Cooper.

Louis Frank et al., transferred to T. C. Fox the west half of the southeast quarter, 35-16-9, consideration $34,500. This is the land which Mr. Frank has owned jointly with Dr. Hargrove and Dr. Norris.

L. H. Whitlock has sold to J. M. Starr part west half southwest quarter 22-15-10 for $12,000. This property is on the Morton road located near the Oak Lawn property recently purchased by Morgan county.

O. N. Henderson transferred to F. P. Henderson an 8-9 interest in lot 1 of Wilson's addition to Arcadia for $46.22.

Petefish transferred to Frank Jockisch the east half of the southwest quarter in section 9, township 16, range 10, consideration $7,000. The land sold at the rate of $210 per acre.

Executors of the Nunes estate transferred to F. P. Six 120 acres in section 8, township 17, range 14. This land is located two miles south of Alexander and the consideration was $21,000.

August Rufus transferred to T. S. Hembrough the west half of the southwest quarter 32-16-10 and 40 acres in section 31-15-9, for a consideration of $21,000.

J. G. Moore of Choteau, Madison county, transferred to Edgar S. Oxley fractional part of a quarter section in 23-15-10. The deed shows a consideration of $1.

John Garvin transferred to P. D. Trotter his farm of 27 acres located two miles northeast of Jacksonville. The deed showed a consideration of $1.

Carrie Spillman transferred to Florence Cowgum lot 4 in H. W. Day's subdivision of lots 8 and 9 city of Jacksonville, consideration $1.

Louis Baptist is moving from the farm of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Applebee located just northwest of the city to an 80 acre farm he recently purchased located 7 miles south of the city. This farm was formerly a part of the Ayers estate.

W. B. McIntyre of South Main street has transferred his farm of 167 acres in the vicinity of Waverly to Everett Burnett. The price

WELL KNOWN PHYSICIAN PASSED AWAY FRIDAY

Dr. J. M. Elder Died at Passavant Hospital—Had Been Practitioner for Twenty Years.

Dr. J. M. Elder, well known physician of Franklin, died at Passavant hospital at noon Friday after a brief illness. Several months ago Dr. Elder submitted to an operation at Passavant hospital. For days he was at the point of death.

Then came a turn for the better and he showed steady improvement. Some time ago he was able to return to his home in Franklin. He had regained strength to such an extent that he was preparing to resume his practice when complications arose and it was deemed necessary to make a second operation. The attending surgeons advised delay but Dr. Elder thought his strength would carry him thru it safely.

Tuesday he entered the hospital and Wednesday submitted to the operation. He had overestimated his strength, however, and grew gradually weaker until the end came.

J. M. Elder was the son of the late Dr. David and Jane Elder and was born in Scottville, Ill., January 29, 1869. He grew to manhood there and received his education in the public schools of the vicinity.

Deciding to take up the profession of his father, he entered a medical school at Indianapolis, Ind., where he graduated about 20 years ago. He returned to his home and immediately took up the profession at Franklin where he was engaged successfully until his last illness. Dr. Elder was a man of high ideals and was a man highly regarded both in his profession and as a citizen. He was always ready to aid any forward movement and gave both of time and talents to the community in which he lived.

Shortly after graduation he was united in marriage to Miss Mary McLarty of Scottville. Besides his widow he is survived by two uncles J. M. Coons of this city and S. W. Coons of Louisville, Ky., and three aunts, Mrs. Lydia Nifong of this city, Mrs. Carrie Fay of Scottville and Mrs. Mary Connor of Keokuk, Iowa. He was the last of a family of eight children.

Dr. Elder was a member of the Christian church and of Wadley lodge 616 A. F. & A. M. of Franklin. The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Williamson & Cody and prepared for burial. The remains will be taken to Franklin this afternoon.

Funeral services will be at Franklin at two o'clock Sunday afternoon in charge of Rev. Wilbur Keenan and Rev. J. N. Jerman. The Masonic lodge will have charge of the services at the grave.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I respectfully announce my candidacy for highway commissioner in Road District No. 9, subject to the decision of the voters of said District at the election Tuesday, April 2.

DR. ETHAN GREY ADDRESSED SOCIETY

Chicago Man Makes Interesting Address Before Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis Society — Other Speakers Tell of Work Locally.

The annual meeting of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis Society was held last evening in the community rooms of the Christian church with a large attendance of members and friends. A fine supper was served in fine manner by the ladies of the church after which came business.

The tables were handsomely decorated with flowers and miniature flags of the allied nations and presented an attractive appearance.

The president, Mrs. A. L. Adams, called the meeting and requested the secretary, Carl Weber, to read his report of which a few extracts are given. The meetings of the year have been well attended; the undesirable quarters for the clinic have been changed for the admirably equipped apartments in the Morrison block great strides have been made in the equipment of the open air school; the sale of Red Cross seals has been very good; Passavant hospital has set aside three rooms especially for tuberculosis patients and they are generally occupied; the selection of Dr. Grace Dewey and Messrs. Batz and Turnbull as county directors of the work has been satisfactory; delegates have been sent to important conventions and state gatherings to learn more of the work. The league continues in favor of the county organization and will aid and cooperate in every way possible in carrying on the good work.

The president said a letter had been received from Dr. Milligan stating that the sender had arrived safely in France and on the same steamer with her was Paul Fritchey. Dr. Milligan was the only lady physician to arrive there and the only doctor from Illinois.

Mess Capps, the treasurer, read his report.

Total receipts	$1,315.33

Dr. C. E. Cole, Clinic Director

Dr. C. E. Cole, clinic director, said the society was ever in a state of transition. The diagnosis of cases had proceeded well. Some had received medical advice; some advice and medicine and every effort had been made to keep abreast of the times. Aid had been given indigent patients and every effort made to carry on the work in the best manner. As a whole the result had been gratifying.

Public Health Nurse
The public health nurse, Miss Martha E. Cole, then read her report which appears in another column.

Wm. Batz, Pres. County Board
spoke briefly. The board felt very well pleased with the ability to buy the Oak Lawn Retreat property and had gone to work getting it in order. Blue prints had been sent Dr. Palmer and he had sent the state architect, Edgar Martin, here to look over the property. That gentleman expressed himself as well pleased with the buildings and grounds as especially suited to the work. The board would do its best to serve the cause.

Buildings Like Melrose Abbey
The president said the architecture of the buildings at Oak Lawn Retreat were a duplicate of Melrose Abbey, the home of Sir Walter Scott, and the ivy growing about the walls was from Scotland.

The Open Air School
Mrs. Reid, chairman of the open air school, spoke. The open air school had been a success. The public was called on to cooperate with the board in making the affair a success. Many difficulties had been encountered in getting the new building and equipment but things were in good shape now. She highly complimented the board of education and paid a special compliment to Supt. Perrin for his capable and unselfish devotion to the work, and asked him to tell of the work. In the past the work was much handicapped by lack of suitable premises but that was now obviated. A suitable lot with buildings had been secured and prepared to accommodate 50 to 60 pupils. The school room, the utilities building with baths, toilets, dressing rooms, office, kitchen, basement and dining room were now occupied. Furniture was largely made in the manual training department of the high school.

Dr. Ethan Allen Grey

With many complimentary remarks the chair introduced Dr. Ethan Allen Grey. Only a very short outline of his excellent address is possible. This is my first visit to Jacksonville. I had thought of it as having the Wabash road, a few public buildings and schools, but I have been greatly and happily surprised by what I have seen here and think highly of your beautiful city. I am especially delighted with your open air school which I regard as the greatest piece of constructive work yet accomplished. Anybody can see advanced cases of tuberculosis but to detect them in incipientity and effect a cure is another matter. The matter of tuberculosis will be more pressing as the war proceeds. In Paris when the Germans drew near every man able to carry a gun was hurried to the front and if they fell from exhaustion or were killed they had died for their country and the cruel Germans were hurled back. It is estimated that 200,000 men came back from the French army with the dread disease. Most of these had it in an incipient form possibly unknown to themselves, and the rigors of army life had developed it. In the Mexican war many came home suffering from the dread malarial fever developed by army life and died. From the cantonments 400 have already been sent back while many more have been refused because of indications of the disease. It is the hard strain incident to army life which develops incipient tuberculosis and the great effort is to prevent it and not receive men subject to infection.

Some counties refuse to join the anti-tuberculosis work not liking to admit that they have any need of it but they have been induced to send delegates to state clinics and have largely been converted. There should be in each county, not necessarily a doctor, whose special duty it should be to seek incipient cases of tuberculosis. People don't like to call it that; they call it winter cough, asthma and almost anything else. Sooner or later the soldiers will be coming back and they will fill the sanatoria and preparations should be made for them.

I greatly admire your Melrose Abbey and I found there some iron bars at the windows and straps for detention but the best method of detention is plenty of good food. It will cost quite a bit but give it; it will pay well. I greatly admire your Melrose Abbey but there is one thing that should have attention and that is sewage. It will be too utterly bad to run the sewage into the nearby stream. There should by all means be a septic tank to take the sewage, purify it and use it for fertilizer. It needn't cost more than $3,000, and then possibly Jacksonville may learn how to care for hers.

Dr. H. C. Woltman
was the last speaker. He dwelt on the great progress made in the work in Jacksonville comparing the first year with the present. He told how rigorously men are examined in the army, first by the regimental surgeons and then by ten specialists. He said new recruits thought it might be mainly to swear and swagger but they soon got over that and became fine looking physically and improved mentally. He paid a high compliment to the work of the army Y. M. C. A. The liquor question is receiving close attention in the army and a man found drunk is court martialled and punished. An officer of the day making his rounds found a sentry who said he had a bottle on his person and was surprised when called down for it.

Greatest care is exercised to dispel the social evil and with good results. At Ft. Sill men are trained in special departments and then sent to the cantonments to drill others. The deadly gas is an infernal method of warfare and must be studied and learned by our men. Both he and Dr. Grey thought it right to send the boys tobacco and cigarettes for they are a great solace to the fighters far from home.

The following directors were elected to succeed themselves: Mrs. A. L. Adams, Dr. Grace F. Dewey, Wm. F. Roegge, Wm. L. Batz, Carl H. Weber, Mrs. Herbert J. Capps, W. R. Turnbull.

WILL REMAIN PREMIER
Madrid, Thursday, Feb. 28.—The Marquis De Alhusemas, notified the king tonight that he definitely accepted the offer to remain in power. The premier has appointed Count De Garalt, a Catalanist, minister of finance, and Luis Silvela, minister of public instruction, in place of Senors Ventosa and Rhodes, whose resignations brought about the collective withdrawal of the cabinet early today. The other members of the cabinet retain their port folio.

W. N. HAIRGROVE TO LEAVE EXEMPTION BOARD

Resignation Filed Several Months Since Will Be Accepted—W. D. Doying Will Probably be Successor

W. N. Hairgrove will soon be relieved from his position as member of the Morgan county local board. This information was conveyed in a letter to Mr. Hairgrove from the office of the adjutant general. More than two months since Mr. Hairgrove sent in his resignation to the adjutant general and asked that it be transmitted to the department at Washington. He accompanied his resignation with a letter explaining his reasons for resigning and also wrote to Senator Lewis and Congressman Rainey on the same subject.

Subsequently following the receipt of a letter from Congressman Rainey in which the congressman in a personal way urged Mr. Hairgrove not to resign, the matter was temporarily dropped. At that time the congressman stated that he would not convey to the department Mr. Hairgrove's wishes unless he received a more insistent request on the part of Mr. Hairgrove, and furthermore, he indicated that the conditions of the country were such that it would not be the patriotic course for the board member to resign.

Resignation to be Accepted.
Mr. Hairgrove replied that he wished to be of any real service that he could to the country at this time of stress and that he would not wish to take any action which would indicate that he was not ready to do his part. Nothing had been heard of the matter since that time until the letter yesterday received by Mr. Hairgrove, which stated that his work on the board had been appreciated but that if he wished to surrender the duties that the matter would be arranged.

When the change was previously talked about W. D. Doying was suggested for the position and President Weir and Dr. Black of the board heartily approved the suggestion that he be made their associate. The letter to Mr. Hairgrove suggests that the board members join in recommending a successor to Mr. Hairgrove and in all probability Mr. Doying's appointment will be made at no distant date. He was considered for membership at the time the board was originally constituted and he is accounted a man whose poise and judgment well qualify him for the duties of the position.

Mr. Hairgrove said yesterday that the work on the questionnaires was about completed and that he still earnestly desired to be relieved from duty and was glad that the department had seen fit to indicate that his resignation would be accepted and a successor named.

HAYES CONFERS WITH FORMER PRESIDENT

Chairman of Republican National Committee Talks With Taft At Union League Club and Chats with Roosevelt At Hospital.

New York, March 1.—Will H. Hayes the new chairman of the Republican national committee conferred here today with two former presidents of the United States. He talked for an hour at the Union League club with William H. Taft, and had a long chat with Theodore Roosevelt at Roosevelt hospital. It was Mr. Hayes' first meeting with Mr. Taft since his election to the chairmanship. They seemed to be in entire harmony and when they parted it was understood "Mr. Taft stood ready to do anything in his power and at any place" to advance the interests of the party when they did not conflict with those of the country.

Mr. Hayes saw Colonel Roosevelt when he was here a few days ago but it was understood they did not talk politics on that occasion as the former president's convalescence from the operation he underwent early in the month had not progressed far enough. He was stronger today, however. No announcement was made of the subjects discussed, but Mr. Hayes declared earlier in the day that there were no factions in the Republican party.

SEEK HIGHER PRICES FOR IRON AND STEEL

NEW YORK, March 1.—Data affecting the prices of iron and steel after March 31 when the present schedule expires was given today to the American Iron and Steel Institute's general committee for presentation to the war industries board at Washington, according to a statement by Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the committee after a conference here of prominent manufacturers. It is understood that the trade will oppose a lower schedule and that many small manufacturers, pleading the higher cost of materials and labor, will seek higher prices. Judge Gary explained that the meeting was held for the purpose of examining the cost sheets of manufacturers and for the discussion of the relative or differential prices heretofore in force, in order intelligently to present to the war industries board the facts necessary to a determination of future prices.

The scouts are urged to collect these books during the week of March 18-25 in connection with the campaign of the library war service committee of the American Library association for books for camp libraries.

Very truly yours,

MANY SUBJECTS TOUCHED IN HENEY INVESTIGATION

The only comment made by Mr. Henev on the letter was:

"Do you get that definition of an 'enemy'?"

Another letter told of another meeting called by Julius Rosenwald of the National Advisory council for the purpose of discussing with the packers the meat prospects. It was dated July 2, 1917 and addressed to E. A. Cudahy by one of his department heads outlining the position taken by the several packers on meat specifications. "Morris & Co." the letter read, "are going to take the position on bacon that they have better let well enough alone and let the specifications stand. Swift & Co.'s position is largely the same. Armour & Co.'s inclination is to try and get them to take any old kind of bacon. I think our own position should be about the same as that taken by Morris & Co."

PETITIONS TO BE FILED NEXT WEEK

The coming week will probably see the filing of the petitions which will put up to the voters the question of eliminating street oiling and public benefit paragraphs from the appropriation ordinance. The law requires that such a petition shall be filed in 30 days from the filing of the ordinance and this time limit will expire Thursday of the coming week. It is likely that at the same time that petitions will be filed suggesting a change from the commission form to the aldermanic form of government.

The petitions with reference to the first suggestions require only 10 per cent of the voters but the petitions with reference to salaries and change of government will require 25 per cent, as a larger percentage is necessary where the proposed measures were not initiated by the council.

Relatives of Leonard Burkery recently received a card from him dated at Brooklyn. Young Burkery is on a food transport and the card stated that he was leaving for Scotland that day, having only returned from another trip abroad the day previous. This indicates that the food transport crews are living very active lives these days in the effort to keep the allies supplied with food. The card from Brooklyn reached this city only 36 hours after it was mailed, which is a very unusual record for these days.

ROOSEVELT LAUDS AMERICAN DEFENSE SOCIETY'S PROGRAM

Heads "Fighting Wing" Against German Propaganda—A Message to Citizens.

"The fighting wing of the defense movement" is the way in which Theodore Roosevelt described the American Defense Society in accepting the Honorary Presidency of that organization, which is engaged in an energetic campaign against sedition, plots, spies, and all forms of pro-German activity in this country. "I hope to see this society—this aggressive, fighting society—circulate the documents which will both arouse us to the need of action and show us the necessity of fighting this war through until it is crowned by a peace of overwhelming triumph for the right," said Mr. Roosevelt, in his first message to his fellow members.

"It is necessary to instruct our people," continued the Colonel, "to show them that this war which is going on on the other side does not rank with 'movies' they go to see. Perhaps ninety per cent. of our people think of it as a 'movie' performance. It is necessary to show that what German domination has meant in Belgium and Northern France, the hideousness of what has been done to Serbia, to Roumania, what it will mean for mankind to see a triumph by a nation which, to use theological terms, is a Dutch Reformed layman may be permitted to use them, is to apply the ethic of Genghis Khan and Timur the Tartar to international relations, with back of it all the resources of civilization ingeniously turned to destruction instead of construction. That is what we have seen Germany do. I earnestly hope that this Society will provide means for the wide circulation of the book 'The Crimes of Germany,' a book which gives in authentic form, and supported by evidence, most of which would be accepted in a court of law, just what Germany has done, and what at this moment would be being done to us if we did not have the fleets and armies of Great Britain to protect us. I hope that this Society will secure the means for a wide circulation of this book in the United States.

"Now, it is imperative necessary that we shall put every particle of our strength back of the Government in everything it does to win this war. It is therefore imperative necessary that we shall fearlessly remedy whatever is done that is wrong. It is not friendship for the United States, it is, perhaps unconsciously, hostility to the United States, to decline to point out the defects and shortcomings in waging the war. Always remember that the chief assistant of the man who now strives to remedy our shortcomings in waging the war is Mr. Hearst. He seems to regard it as unpatriotic to point out that broom-stick rifles and logwood cannon are not efficient implements of war against Germany.

"Now, it is our duty, not our highest duty, but our very high duty, to point out where we, as a nation, have failed to do what we ought to do. I wish this Society would send out broadcast Mr. Caspar Whitney's article in last Sunday's 'Tribune' describing conditions at the front.

"Shortly after the Spanish-American war I became governor of New York. I had been a part of Mr. McKinley's administration, and the next year I was to run as Vice-President on the ticket with him. But then, as now, I held it to be my prime duty to tell the truth when it was in the interest of the nation that the truth should be told. In November, 1899, I wrote as follows about the Santiago campaign, in which I had taken part:

"The artillery for thirty-five years had had no field practice that was in the slightest degree adequate to its needs."

"The bureaus in Washington were absolutely enmeshed in red tape, and were held for the most part by elderly men no longer fit to break through routine and show the necessary initiative and willingness to accept responsibility."

"Don't you think that applies pretty well today? Remember that I was speaking about my own party, the administration of my own party, and of the war in which I had taken part. I continued:

"The Santiago campaign was a welter of confusion with an utter lack of organization and that skilled leadership which can come only through practice. The Army was more than once uncomfortably near disaster, from which it was saved only by the incompetence of its foes."

"To go against a well-organized, well-led foreign foe under such conditions would have inevitably meant failure and humiliation. It would be impossible to get good results in war if the Nation has failed to prepare its military strength in advance."

"I then declined to alter or suppress the truth in the interest of my own party, and they are indeed foolish who believe that at this time I can be frightened out of telling at least that minimum of truth necessary in order to save our party and this nation and the cause of civilization from disaster."

"Gentlemen, a weak nation, a nation of weaklings, may perhaps be induced to fight only through mendacity. If that is true of our nation, for Heaven's sake let us find it out. We are not worth preserving if such is the case. I do not believe that we are a nation of weaklings. I believe that the American people will respond to the truth when it is told them. I believe if it is made evident that we tell the truth simply so that we can correct the conditions, that are bad, and so that we can effectively fight this war through to the end, that the nation will respond to the truth-telling. I believe that during the past year we have suffered most from failure to tell the truth. It is our grave misfortune that there was not a sufficiently aroused public opinion a year ago, eleven months ago, to say, 'Now we have not prepared, we are at present utterly incompetent to do our duty, but we will absolutely forgive them and forgive those responsible for it in the past, if with the entire energy of the nation behind them, all our government officials, without regard to politics, will now try to do their duty in the present.' If we had so acted, I believe we would now have had half a million men on the firing line in France, and half a million more close behind them."

"People say, 'Don't let our foes know about our faults.' Do you think that Von Hindenburg and Von Tirpitz don't know about them? They know everything about them. They have their spies here by the tens of thousands. There is only one set of people that don't know, and that is the American people."

"Tell the truth and speed up the war. The reason I became more and more interested in this organization is that it has told the truth. It has told the truth not to reproach anybody with what is past, but so that we may remedy those shortcomings for the future."

"Don't tell the truth for malicious purposes, don't tell it vainly, don't tell it unless there is a constructive purpose behind it, but tell the truth to show what our shortcomings are. Make it evident how far short we are of getting our men, arms, equipment and clothing, of dealing with the German spies on this side as they should be dealt with, of speeding up the war. Do it with the purpose of speeding up the war, and to make the slacker, the pro-German, the pacifist, the Germanized socialist, understand that we are in to fight this war through to the end until victory comes to the United States and to the cause of liberty and the right of every well-behaved nation to govern itself as it sees fit in this civilized world of ours."

WOMEN OF THE PARSONAGE DIE EARLY

(By John Poucher, D. D.)

The annals of the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church present the preacher's wife as an object of sympathetic pity. Very often she had not been educated for the business and appears at a disadvantage. Kiger, who introduced me to the Conference, in calling on the newly-wed, told my bride, a preaching daughter, who spent her childhood years of girlhood in Gibson County where at seven she was received into full membership in the Methodist Episcopal Church, that with open eyes she had consecrated the victim for sacrifice. Be it said to her credit that during thirty years of unprecedented privation and ceaseless toil she never betrayed any sign of a wish to withdraw the offering. Quite often during those long rounds of a protracted meeting, the wife and mother, usually of a large family, must provide alone and unaided for all the needs of the household. It was difficult to tell which was the most wearing, the visit at the class of leaders or the ceaseless vigil in the poverty stricken parsonage. Scan the necrological roll and behold the effect. Scarcely a graveyard in Southern Indiana that is not more or less with the dust of one or more of these martyrs. Rambling once in an old cemetery I lighted on a little slab for "Annie Stallard, aged nineteen." See how many women, twenty-three per cent, have been immolated before reaching thirty-five. The pathos of this situation with all that it suggests is simply indescribable. With muffled drums and piercing fife-walls, we annually adorn soldier graves with flags and roses. Angels waving the cross and strewing a sweeter perfume than that of snow white lilies in the air constantly hover over the man remains of those who sank to rest without sigh or murmur.

CLAIMS FOR EXEMPTION VARY BUT SLIGHTLY

Registrants Generally Present Claims Because of Dependents or for Occupational Reasons—Parents and Wives Unwilling to Make Sacrifices.

Louisville, March 1.—Claims for exemption presented to draft exemption boards in Louisville, have varied only occasionally from the monotony offered by demands for relief because of dependents or for occupational reasons.

In this connection district exemption board officials call attention to the very evident unwillingness of many parents or wives to make any sacrifice in order to permit the man upon whom they are dependent to enter the military service. They insist, these officials say, on the man being granted exemption because his going will mean that they will have to live on a somewhat less elaborate scale than that to which they have been accustomed. This is true, they say, even in those cases where the allotment that would be made from the man's pay and the allowance from the government would make it possible for them to live comfortably.

As an illustration: The chairman of one local exemption board told of a woman who came to his office and indignantly demanded what they meant by putting her brother in class one of those eligible for the draft, when she had been told she was dependent on his earnings. Questioning developed that she was married, the mother of three children with a living husband, who had, however, but a modest income. The brother, a good sort, who earned much more than did the husband, had been living with the sister and had contributed the greater part of his income toward her household. To take him into the army would mean hardship would be visited upon her.

Claims Made on Flimsy Basis. In many cases claims for exemption made on a flimsy basis have brought amusing incidents in their train.

One man filled out his questionnaire, claiming exemption because of a dependent wife and child, whose residence he gave as being in another city. The questionnaire was mailed to the wife by the board with a request that she fill out the affidavit which was necessary that she sign before her husband's claim would be allowed.

A few days later the questionnaire was returned unsigned. With it came a letter thanking the board for information that they had given her which she had "long been trying to obtain" in regard to the whereabouts of her husband. She had not heard from him, nor had he contributed to her support for several years, she said, and she had been trying to find him in order that she might have a warrant charging non-support served on him.

Was Physically Unfit. "Unfortunately," said the exemption board official, "she did not have the warrant served and on physical examination the man proved so patently unfit that, stretch the requirements as we would, we could not get him into khaki where he might have done some good for once in his worthless life that he would have been a shame to burden the army with."

Another man wanted exemption because he was engaged in an agricultural occupation. He was told he would have to present it to the district board, but before making out the appeal for him he was asked just exactly what sort of agricultural work he was doing. He was driving a wagon used to haul fertilizer from the manufactory to the railroad station.

Another man claiming exemption on the ground that he had a dependent mother was found to have a penitentiary record having served three terms; that his mother supported him, and that she was the owner of several valuable pieces of real estate.

Tried to Enter Training Camp.

The one case to attract the greatest attention of any since the first registrants were examined by any Louisville board was probably that of a man, now serving a sentence of ten years in the Atlanta Federal prison. This man had attempted to obtain entrance to the first officers' training camp, but failed.

When he came up on the draft call he first offered a plea of conscientious objection to war, but was unable to sustain this and it was rejected. He then offered the plea that he had an aged mother dependent upon him for support. It was found he had not been contributing to her support, the earning a good salary and this plea was rejected and he was ordered to Camp Zachary Taylor among the first Louisville men sent there.

He had intelligence and education, and was made a corporal. The officers heard that the men were calling him "the German spy." An investigation uncovered persons, who later at a court martial testified the man had maligned the President, saying he ought to be shot and that if given the chance he would do it himself. This testimony caused the court martial to impose a sentence of ten years penal servitude.

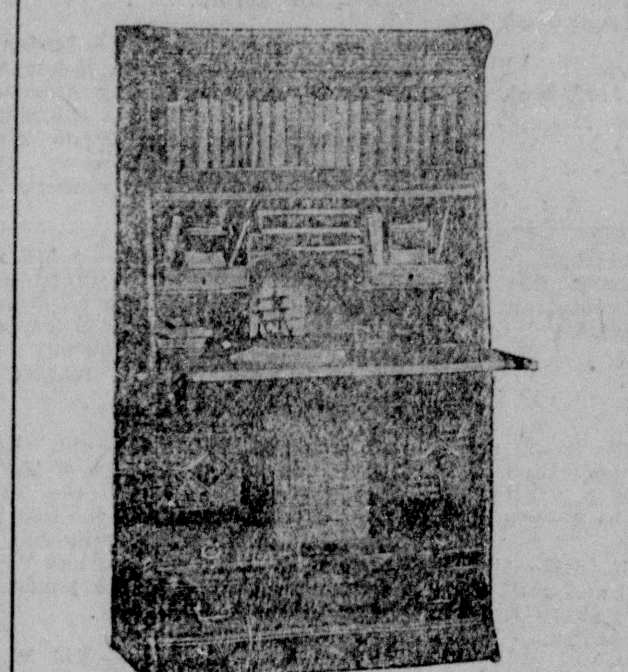

This is the time to get that spring suit of knoles.

FRENCH MONEY DISPLAYED AT CAMP TAYLOR

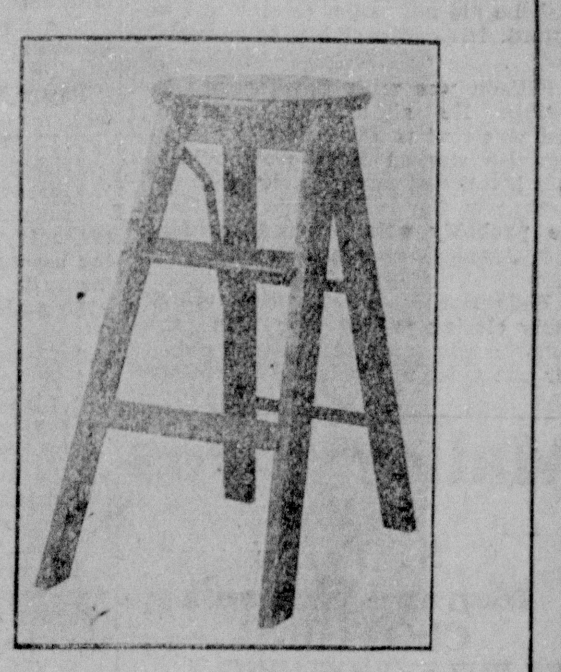

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky. — French coins and bills are being displayed at the canteen here for the benefit of the National Army men who are examining them with great interest, inasmuch as they will handle the money "over there." Coins ranging in value from 5 centimes (one cent) to a Napoleon ($1.00), and bills from 5 francs (93 cents) to twenty francs ($3.75) are being shown. The money was obtained by the Y. M. C. A. educational department.

O. N. Wayne of Barry was a caller in the city yesterday.

A SUCCESSFUL GARDENER.

Remarkable Results Attained by Robert Mutch of This City.

Speakers at farmers' institutes tell of wonderful results attained by themselves and we read in the papers of successful tillers of the soil on a small scale but here, right at home Robert Mutch, 819 West College avenue, has attained results worth recording.

He had a plot 80 by 100 feet in extent. A part of it had been a chicken yard which of course increased its fertility and a part had not been fertilized for some time, tho of course it is good soil. He had it plowed the latter part of March and planted half in Early Ohio potatoes, the seed brought from Minnesota. He cut the outside for seed and saved the hearts of the tubers for the table. He drilled in the pieces about twelve inches apart, and from the patch dug 18 to 20 bushels of fine potatoes. He paid no attention to the light or dark of the moon but planted when he was ready and regarded the time suitable.

Between the rows of potatoes he planted ordinary field corn and Kentucky wonder beans to climb up the corn stalks. On the other half of the ground he planted all manner of family vegetables, peas, onions, carrots, parsnips, salsify, sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage, cauliflower, peppers and others. The peas he followed with late tomatoes, beans with more beans, radishes with cabbages, cauliflower and beets he followed with navy beans and early potatoes, celery.

He raised his tomato plants himself, having Early Annas, Ponderosas and Stones. Ponderosas were rather his favorites and grew to great size.

The field corn he boiled to blanch it while in roasting ears, cut it from the cob, made a mixture of two parts corn and one of salt, packed in a jar and placed away with a weight over it. It will thus keep any length of time. Take it out of the crock the night before using, soak and change the water three times, cook and drain water from it. Use a little milk, sugar and butter and it makes a fine dish. Beans he treats the same way.

A part of the garden he let his boys, aged respectively 9 and 11, tend and sell the products. His wife canned quite a quantity of the crop of the garden. All winter they have had but two meals not supplied with the products of that garden. While not having an accurate account of the crop Mr. Mutch is satisfied it was easily worth $250.

"WHEN A MAN'S A MAN."

Sunday evening at Centenary church the pastor will take as the basis of his message the widely read story of Harold Bell Wright entitled "When a Man's a Man." It is a dramatic narrative of how a man recovered his lost manhood. Young people are especially invited. Everybody welcome.

Detroit, Feb. — Bert Ellison, the promising recruit from the St. Paul club of the American Association probably will return to the Detroit Americans this spring. Ellison applied for enlistment in the aviation service but for some reason not clear to President Navin of the Detroit club he did not enlist or was not accepted. His contract has been received.

Ellison was with the Tigers last spring. He showed much promise and was sent to St. Paul for seasoning. He starred in the Association as a hitter and proved a capable performer in the infield and out field. He probably will be used by Manager Jennings as a utility man.

Great Lakes, Ill., Feb. — Andy Robert Slight, ruddy of cheek and fair of hair, member of the famous White Sox World's tour, former battery mate of Red Faber, hero of last season's world series, and singer de luxe, bids fair to make his mark in the present world war as one of Uncle Sam's sailors.

Slight enlisted in Chicago last fall for radio work, but soon after his entry at Great Lakes he was transferred from radio and placed in one of the big clothing warehouses. His ability as an entertainer was too great for the Great Lakes boys to allow him to go "over there" until after the baseball season.

Chief Yeoman Phil Chouinard, baseball manager for the Navy team, hopes to have Slight in uniform when the spring training opens. Andy was with Jimmy Callahan's Logan Squares, a Chicago semi-professional team, in 1909 playing with such stars as Mike Donlin and Moose McCormick. He was then only 14 years old. After playing at Edmonton, Can., he went to Des Moines where he was the battery mate of Red Faber.

Later he joined the White Sox and made the world's tour with that club. Andy was unfortunate early in the tour, breaking his shoulder in a game played in Tokyo.

Slight proved a valuable member of the tour even though he could not play baseball for his singing became a feature of the tour. In Paris Jean De Reske heard him sing and tried to persuade Andy to forsake the diamond pastime for an opera career.

Slight has not played professional ball since his shoulder was injured, but, declares he is in condition and expects to give the jackie nine a lot of aid this spring.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. — Lucian A. Lyne, a Lexington, Ky., jockey, will carry the colors of King Alfonso of Spain. He has closed a contract to become head jockey for the king's stable. Through Senator Ollie James, Lyne procured passports and expects to sail soon.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. — A bill prohibiting betting of wagering on horse races, other than at licensed race tracks, is under consideration in the state senate. The bill is designed to prohibit the making of handbooks.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. — St. Louis University has given two of its last season football stars to the army. Louis Boggiano, one of the best half backs St. Louis University has developed in many seasons and Taylor Strubinger, tackle, have joined the aviation corps.

Cleveland, O., Feb. — Kid Wolfe, of Cleveland, and Willie Devore, of Akron, aspirants for the bantamweight championship, will meet here in a ten round bout March 7. On the same card are Jabez White, of Albany, and Battling Lahn, of Brooklyn, in a ten-round go. They are also bantamweights. Devore recently outpointed White at Akron, while White later outpointed Pal Moore, of Memphis, who owns a referee's decision over Wolfe.

Akron, O., Feb. — Johnny Griffiths of Akron and Jimmy Duffy of Lockport, N. Y., have been signed for a fifteen round bout here on March 8.

SPORT CHATTER

Phil Franchini, the crack bantam amateur of New York, has joined Dan McKettrick's stable of boxers.

Some of the New York Giant veterans will take the baths at Hot Springs before going to the training camp at Marlin.

Pitcher Bill Jones, the Braves' star, says his wing is again O. K. and hopes that Boss Stallings will give him an opportunity to prove it.

"Hooverizing" seems to have hit the boxing game. Tommy Robson has canned his manager and is now looking after his own business affairs.

"This said that Billy Murray, well known scout and former manager, will scour the country this season in search of promising pastimers for the Red Sox.

Bryan Downey of Chicago and Joe Egan, the Boston batter, will clash again at Columbus, March 11. It will be the third time they have met in the ring.

Miller Huggins, the Yanks' pilot, is an ambitious cuss, anyway you take him. He put in a bid for about all the American league stars, even tho he succeeded only in making a trade with the Browns.

Alma Richards, star Cornell athlete and Olympic high jump winner, is now a lieutenant, U. S. A., being stationed at Camp Fremont, Cal.

For these guys who are ever eager to put one over the boxing game is home sweet home. For illustration, the digging up of dead ones for young Jack Dempsey to devour, all of which is included in the boxing game.

Glowing accounts of how the Yankees are grabbing star players are printed in the New York papers one day and denied the next. Evidently Gethem scribbles know as much about the Yankee outfit as does some hick in Squirrel Centre.

As Percy Houghton, Leo Leary and Reggie Brown, the Harvard football experts, are slated to return to the job at Cambridge this year, it looks as if the Crimson gridders intend to play real foot ball instead of the informal variety.

Strangler Ed Lewis must have been side tracked in the wrestling championship merry-go-round. It was only a short time ago that the Kentucky grappler held the spotlight in the mat game, but now Joe Stecher, Earl Caddock and Eusebio Zbyszko are monopolizing the stage.

American association players and umpires would do well to leave their angoras at home this season, for Mickey Devine, the New Haven pinner, is to be a member of the Louisville Colonels. Mickey belongs to the younger generation of pastiming "kiddies," but as a "goat-getter" he has most of the old timers caught flat-footed.

It is doubtful if any naval station or army camp in the country can boast of athletic talent the equal of that found at the Boston Navy Yard. No matter what the game, whether baseball, football, hockey, basketball, or track and field sports, the First District middies are there.

MATCHED FOR BOUT

Chicago, Feb. 28.—Fred Fulton, of Rochester, Minn., and Bob Devere of Kansas City, were matched today for a ten round bout at St. Louis, Mo., March 11. Devere was to have fought Jack Dempsey at Joplin, Mo., tomorrow night, but this match was called off in preparation for the bout in St. Louis.

PROMISE TO DO THEIR BIT

INTERNAL REVENUE

Scope of the Income Tax Described.

Washington, March 1.—John M. Goldbonds—the name is fictional, but there are quite a few John M.s. in the United States—this year will pay an income tax of $1,100,000. John M.'s income for 1917 was $3,000,000.

John M. Smithkins—also fictional—will pay $15. Smithkins' income for 1917 was $2,500. Both are married.

This is an illustration of the operation of the income tax provisions of the War Revenue Act of October 3, 1917 and the act of September 8, 1916, which preceded it, and which remains in force.

The normal rate of tax under the act of 1917 is 2 per cent on the net income of unmarried persons in excess of $1,000 and on the net income of married persons in excess of $2,000. Under the 1916 act the normal rate is 2 per cent on the net income of unmarried persons in excess of $2,000 and on the net income of married persons in excess of $4,000. An extra levy or surtax ranging from 1 per cent on incomes between $5,000 and $7,000 to 50 per cent on incomes in excess of $1,000,000 is imposed by the act of 1917. The act of 1916, in addition to the normal tax, imposed a surtax ranging from 1 per cent on incomes between $20,000 and $40,000 to 15 per cent on incomes in excess of $200,000. John M. will pay 2 per cent on his income in excess of $1,000, 50 per cent on his income in excess of $1,000,000 and 15 per cent on his income in excess of $2,000,000. Smithkins will pay 2 per cent on his income in excess of $2,500.

The income tax, as thus shown, is no longer a rich man's tax but a levy so graduated that every person assessed according to his income last year 500,000 persons paid an income tax.

This year the number will be more than 6,000,000.

The estimated revenue to be collected under the War Revenue Act of 1917 is $2,500,000,000, of which $900,000,000 is in individual income taxes. Every unmarried person who made $2 a week or more and every married person who made $4 a week or more is assessed. Returns are required of unmarried persons whose net income for the calendar year 1917 was $1,000 or more and of married persons whose net income was $2,000 or more.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, has extended the time for filing returns from March 1 to April 1, 1918. This affords the taxpayer ample opportunity to delay until April 2 renders the delinquent subject to a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $50, and an additional $5 for each day of delay, or 50 per cent of the amount of tax due.

Blank forms may be obtained from collectors of internal revenue or from revenue officers who are visiting every county in the United States to assist taxpayers in making out their returns. The services of these experts are offered without cost. The location of their offices may be obtained on inquiry from collectors, banks or postmasters. The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the taxpayer lives or has his place of business.

Payment must be made on or before June 15, 1918. The penalty for failing to pay tax when due is an assessment of 5 per cent of the amount unpaid, plus interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month during which it remains unpaid. For making a false or fraudulent return, the penalty is a fine not exceeding $2,000 or not exceeding one year's imprisonment, or both in the discretion of the court and, in addition, 100 per cent of the tax evaded.

The man who thinks to evade the income tax is storing up for himself trial and tribulation. The government has numerous ways of checking up on evaders. One is through the "information at source" provision of the act of 1917 which requires every employer to file with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue a report of payments of $50 or more paid to each employee during the calendar year of 1917. It is estimated that the number of such reports filed will be 20,000,000.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue, through various agencies, has endeavored to inform taxpayers everywhere of the requirements of the income tax laws. Ignorance of the law cannot be accepted as an excuse. To the "tax dodger" who deliberately seeks to evade his just share of the war burden no consideration will be given. Fortunately for the self-respect of the American Nation, the Bureau is antedating few such cases. The Bureau has ample and conclusive proof that these taxes for the support of the war will be paid cheerfully and willingly by the great majority of the people. To do less is to confess a lack of patriotism and of patriotism which has made this an enduring republic. Dollars mean victory. Whether you are a Goldbond or a Smithkins, remember that in paying your income tax you are helping to crush forever the fear of German domination and to confer upon the world the boon of a lasting peace.

LAST QUOTA ARRIVES AT CAMP TAYLOR

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.—Six thousand selected men of the last quota from the first draft began coming into Camp Zachary Taylor Saturday, Feb. 24, and continued to reports in large lots for the five following days. They came from Kentucky and southern Illinois. No men from Indiana arrived, as they are to come later.

Plans have been completed to rush the new arrivals through the military examining machine within two weeks. This will have them ready for discharge or for actual service in the military forces. They will be kept together according to the community from which they came as was done in the first draft. Each man will be sent where he can do the best work.

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS SOON FROM CAMP TAYLOR

Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.—Major General Harry C. Hale, commanding the 84th Division at Camp Zachary Taylor, and his chief of staff, Lieut. Col. Lawrence Halstead, have returned from France where they have been on an observation tour of more than three months.

In this connection the interesting observation is made that a general movement of troops from Camp Zachary Taylor may soon take place, an order having been issued calling for a complete check of all equipment that is needed for service overseas. That order also applies to officers and means that each officer will have to spend more than $300 for his equipment.

Recently an order was received at the camp stating in detail what each officer would have to buy for service abroad. The second order is taken to mean another step toward France.

Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.

When you use medicated sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh, you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again. Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store to-day, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century. S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case without charge by writing to Medical Director, 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

A Purposeful Formula

Senreco's formula is not "just a little of this and a little of that."

It was devised with a definite object in view.

The ideal defined, our laboratories set about to determine the proper combination to produce it. Senreco is the result. It has been tried, tested and pronounced good by hundreds of the profession. Try a tube. A single tube will prove every claim. Will show why thousands today use and demand Senreco—and are satisfied with nothing less. All druggists and toilet counters. Large 2 oz. tube—25c.

Springfield, Mar. 1.—January, 1918, was the most severe month in the climatological history of Illinois, according to Clarence J. Root, meteorologist at the United States weather bureau here.

"As far back as 1878 there has been no month of any name as cold as the one under discussion," says Mr. Root in the January pamphlet of climatological data, just published, "and the local record at Peoria, extending 63 years, shows this January to be the coldest of any month, and the combined temperature of December and January lower than any two previous, consecutive months. Lower individual temperatures have occurred at most stations in other Januarys, but this one continued persistently cold and without interruption."

EXEMPTION BOARDS FACE DIFFICULT TASK

Draft Appeal Board at Kansas City Beseiged by Thousands Seeking to Avoid Draft — Claims Presented are Mixture of Humor and Pathos.

Kansas City, Mo., March 1.—The very serious business of selecting from the manhood of Kansas City and vicinity the representatives in the national army was attended by much humor and pathos. The draft appeal board from its opening session was beseiged by throngs who sought to serve their country in any but a military way and exhausted their ingenuity in thinking up reasons why they should not be drafted. And in contrast, there were those who yearned for army life and sometimes were hard put to it to prove they would be useful to their country in soldier uniform.

There was the man who declared, in answer to a question as to why he thought he should be exempted, that no other man in the world except himself could live with his wife. To this a member of the draft board replied: "If I should tell her on what grounds you are asking exemption, I'll bet you couldn't either."

There was the representative of a county organization who asked the district board that his entire county be dealt with leniently since it was an agricultural county and there was the woman of 47 years who asked exemption for her 30-year-old husband because she loved him so much. There was a coffee salesman who pointed out that several hotels would suffer if he were called to the colors.

Petition Signed by Sunday School
Likewise there was a petition signed by forty members of a Sunday school conducted in a rural church five miles from a town asking for exemption for the school's superintendent and asserting the school could not be maintained without his leadership.

Work for the government did not exempt from military service. A postmaster in vain filed an affidavit that a rural mail carrier was necessary to the proper distribution of the mail on his route and a district draft board refused to make any concessions for an assistant secretary of a state board of agriculture seeking exemption on industrial grounds, although many influential public men were interested in his case. The physical director of a high school who had charge of the school military drill was not exempted.

On the other hand a deputy United States collector of internal revenue was placed in Division 1, Class 3, as a necessary government employee. He was engaged in technical work in the administration of the income tax law.

Man Assigned Five Reasons
One Buchanan county man assigned five reasons to the appeal board why he should be exempted. He said he was under weight, had a crippled foot and defective eyesight. These reasons were rejected. Then he claimed he was the sole support of his father and, that being disallowed, made the claim he was a farmer working on land his father rents. He was certified for the national army.

Although the small salaries given country school teachers in this as in other states are notorious, many school boards in the Kansas City district filed affidavits that the teachers were necessary in educational work.

In one case "an act of God" was responsible for an exemption claim. The overflowing of the Platte river in Buchanan county devastated the farm of the grandfather of a man already serving at Camp Funston. The grandparents were left destitute and forty of their neighbors petitioned the district draft board to return the grandson from training camp.

Actual Fraud and Deceit
Some actual fraud and deceit was found among those seeking to avoid military service. One man, asking exemption on the ground that he was the sole support of his wife, challenged the draft board to find that either he or his wife had funds or property. They accepted and discovered he had a bank account of about $3,500 that had been hidden in a safety deposit box and that his wife owned property.

Another man became ill when notified to report for service and his mother asked that he be examined and exempted because mentally unbalanced. The doctors made a written report, finding the man's mental condition was brought on by his own volition.

Some queer exhibits reached the draft boards to back up claims for dependency. One man produced a jeweler's diamond guarantee issued last April to prove a dependency claim in the case of marriage since May 18. He pressed a dependency claim although married last September. He had been engaged in the spring, he explained, and to prove it pinned the engagement ring guarantee to his questionnaire. Love letters were offered to show intention to marry before the draft law menaced and a Wichita paper with news of an announcement party and pictures of the bride and bridegroom-to-be was sent to a draft board. To prove that one bridegroom was no "marriage slacker," a Jewish couple sent in a marriage contract made out last winter.

Enthusiasm reached the boiling point and ran over the sides of the kettle at David Prince gymnasium Friday evening. There has been keen interest displayed since the opening of the tournament and much enthusiasm. It remained, however, for the first appearance of the locals to bring the great climax.

Never has there been harder fighting in a game than that shown by Jacksonville and Carthage. The score was close throughout and at the end of the first half Carthage was leading by a score of 15 to 13. In the last half toward the close Jacksonville got into action and with some of the fastest work ever seen on a local floor took the lead and held it until the final gun.

The game was rough and taut and the officials tightened up in their rulings as the game progressed, tho no players on either team committed enough fouls to be banished from the fray. The victory gave Jacksonville a world of confidence and they are looking forward to the Waverly game with a belief that victory will come to them. If Jacksonville can keep up the clip she showed with Carthage and display the form shown against Springfield recently she should be able to be on the long end of the score.

The contest also uncovered another player of sterling worth in Clark of Carthage. Clark can do everything that a player is expected to do on a basketball floor and then some. He scored 20 of the 22 points credited to him and won the plaudits of the spectators time and time again.

For Jacksonville the main feature was the team work. The men worked as a unit with only one object in view—victory. Especially good defensive work was done by Smith and McDougall while Firke at running guard and Reeves at forward did yeoman work on the offense.

Jacksonville and Carthage were originally scheduled for the last game Friday afternoon but owing to the failure of Pittsfield to show her game with Quincy was forfeited and it threw the local game the first one on the evening card.

Much praise has been bestowed by players, coaches and spectators on the work of Messrs Kling and Swain. They know the game thoroly and are impartial in their rulings and keep the play moving all the time.

In the opening game of the morning between Franklin and Virginia, it was soon evident that the Virginia team would take the game with a comfortable score, their passing and basket shooting being far better than their opponents. The work of Woods at forward for Franklin and that of French and Meade of the Virginia team was the interesting part of the game.

In the second game of the morning the dope as figured out before hand by the majority of the people was again upset, when Griggsville defeated Mt. Sterling by a 28 to 22 score. Only last week Griggsville was defeated by Barry in the Pike County tournament, and were not expected to give the Mt. Sterling quintet very strong opposition, as Barry was considered a second rate team in tournament standing. The first half of this game was fast and furious, being characterized by close guarding with a long shot at the basket by Brierly of Griggsville and H. McDannald of Mt. Sterling mixed in. These two teams were about on a par when it came to guarding, but Brierly was able to drop more of his long shots than for points than was the opposing forwards.

The final game of the morning play was too much one sided to be of any interest from the standpoint of the spectators, but it did show that Jerseyville has a team of good basket shooters who can be depended upon when given any chance for a shot at the basket. Their game with Petersburg was won by a score of 69 to 5, Petersburg making only two field baskets. R. Bell at center scored a total of 35 points by himself, which is enough for any team to win an ordinary game. Drury at forward was also a heavy scorer, caging the ball for a total of 16 points. The Jerseyville team appears at the present time to be one of the best bets for the winner of the tournament.

Afternoon Games.
Rushville having drawn a bye over the first round of playing opened the afternoon games with a win over Girard, which had won from New Berlin in the opening game last night. The first half of the game looked as tho either team might win the game as the half ended 10-9 in Rushville's favor. Essingler at center was the individual star of the game, scoring 16 points for his team. His work over the floor was note worthy as he repeatedly broke up the team play of Girard. Smith at center and Wones at guard played the best game for Girard.

The second game of the afternoon between Auburn and Easton, started rather slow as neither team was able to find the basket with any regularity, there being only four baskets scored by both teams during the first half, with Auburn leading 7 to 4. In the beginning of the second half Easton began to find the basket and with the assistance of Martin they soon rolled the score up to 26 while Easton was securing four points. Again in this game Laird displayed his versatile style of play, altho he appeared to have felt the strain of last night's play, to an extent. Heninger for Easton seemed to be the individual star of their team.

Virginia did not seem to have the light and basket shooting ability in their game with Waverly, as they did in their game last night. They did not have the chances as they did against Franklin, but when they did shoot it was not with the same accuracy. Again Waverly demonstrated that she has a team that expects to go thru to the finals when they rolled up a score of 45 to 9 against Virginia. Hughes and McMahon doing the heavy work for the winners.

Mason City Beat Bluffs
Following the Jacksonville-Carthage game the Mason City and Bluffs teams took the floor. Mason City who had been winning the big majority of their seasons games continued the winning streak by taking the long end of the score last night. Hughes and Dietrich at the forward positions for Mason City played the best ball for their team, while Thompson did the heavy work for Bluffs.

Jerseyville Easy Winner
The last game of the evening between Jerseyville and Griggsville did not prove to be as hard a game for Jerseyville as was expected. Bell and Duery continued to throw baskets with regularity as in the morning game. This game puts Jerseyville into the semi-final where they will meet the winner of Rushville-Auburn game. Brierly at forward for Griggsville did not continue the long shooting with any accuracy last night as he did in the morning game, which tended to lessen Griggsville's chances of scoring.

ENGINEER INSPECTED PROPOSED WELL SITES

M. R. Rankin, an engineer representing Pierce & Welsch, a Chicago engineering firm, was in Jacksonville yesterday to seek some preliminary information with reference to the proposed plans for water improvement. Mr. Rankin in company with Mayor Rodgers, Commissioner Vassell, councilors and Engineer Henderson visited the south side pumping station and several other proposed sites for an impounding reservoir.

His firm has not been engaged by the city but Mr. Rankin was here for the purpose of collecting data so that a definite proposition can be made to the city as to the cost of serving in an advisory capacity during the preliminary stages of preparing for the proposed improvement. The firm had previously indicated a price per day which would be charged for the work and Mayor Rodgers and Dr. Harker as representatives of the joint committee wished to have a more definite understanding as to the cost of engineering work.

DISPOSED OF LAND

John Hall disposed of 80 acres of unimproved land in the Providence neighborhood near Franklin yesterday to John F. Kloppe of South Jacksonville. The land formerly was a part of the estate of Robert Seymour. Mr. Kloppe purchased the land as an investment. The price paid was $16,000.

WHEAT PROSPECTS GOOD.

Several persons from the country yesterday reported wheat in an encouraging condition and so far the outlook seems to be quite favorable.

ANTI-TUBERCULOSIS WORK IN COUNTY

Annual Report by Miss Coale, Public Health Nurse Throws Interesting Side Lights on Important Subject.

At the annual dinner and business meeting of the Morgan County Anti-Tuberculosis league last night at Central Christian church Miss Martha E. Coale, public health nurse, presented her report. It is devoid of the usual array of statistics and given in a way which will present interesting facts and to indicate that Miss Coale is handling the work in a very earnest and thorough way. The report follows:

Many Visits Made.

Dry figures again, but may I say just a few words concerning the work of the Public Health Nurse? Of course, the main object of the work is to make visits to the sick in their homes, of which there were 4,033 made. Of these visits, 1,427 were made to General duty patients, or those suffering from other diseases besides Tuberculosis, 2,173 were made to tuberculosis patients, and 433 to Metropolitan Life Insurance policy holders.

This summer a call came that a child had typhoid fever, the answer found three children in bed, two of whom had been in the open air school during school time. The County Physician was notified and the one child sent immediately to the hospital. The others improved until about two weeks later the mother called at 9 p. m. Night calls are not customary, but this one was answered. The second child was found very ill with the same disease and rushed to the hospital. Before the case was closed, four children had the disease; three being cared for in the hospital, and the other one at home. The mother and two other children were given the serum.

Often, the question is asked, "How do you get all these calls?" They are reported by the Doctors, ministers, teachers, Social Service league, friends and accidentally found. A little woman reported by the doctor found to be an advanced case of tuberculosis, sleeping in a closed room, nursing one baby and a little boy of five sleeping in the same bed. With persuasion this patient was moved to an open shed at the back of the house, which made an excellent sleeping room. It had six windows and two doors. Instructions were given to the family, and the children sent to the country with an aunt. The little patient died, but the two children are in very good condition. The sad part of the story is, that very few people have an open room in which to move, or an aunt in the country to whom to send the children. Now, with our lovely new Sanatorium, we need not worry about these things.

Our clinic has been moved from the "shack" to lovely new headquarters in the Marion block, much to the satisfaction of all concerned. This year there have been 52 clinics—Doctors 4. Patients at clinic 1991, examinations 206 of which 141 were children. Sputum 47, positive 11, negative 36. Tuberculosis treatment given 855.

Many Problems Presented.

This work does not mean that we only see the person reported sick, but every member of the household is looked over and advised if necessary. Many problems are discussed and plans made for the family, decisions made concerning the report to the Social Service league for material aid. Above all, just now, diets must be discussed and planned for families. Besides the town work a small survey of the county has been made and in one small town, in about 4 weeks 89 suspected cases of tuberculosis, 30 positive were found, so you might have an idea of how much of this disease might be found in the entire county.

The ever progressive League never lets their nurse stay at home from conferences and meetings. The National Tuberculosis meeting in Cincinnati was well represented from this county, by two doctors, our president and the nurse. Every meeting brings new inspiration to all concerned, and many new items are undertaken after talks with co-workers.

Sometimes we find quite ill people without sheets, gowns, towels or really anything except just the few clothes they happen to have on. A committee from the Woman's club provides for these emergencies, by providing an amply filled loan chest.

From this chest there have been loaned this year: Sheets 60, gowns 35, towels 20, pillow slips 26, hot water bottles 6, ice caps 4, and other articles needed in the care of the sick. 12 baby outfits have been given away, and many odd pieces.

Since last January we have had eight pupil nurses from the Passavant to stay six weeks each. Here, I must say what a pleasure it has been to have these nurses, and such good work has been done by them.

Many talks have been given in the churches, clubs, etc. A class, "Care of the baby" has been taught one night a week since October at Passavant. Two Red Cross classes in home Nursing and in operation, have been held since before January. Taking all into consideration, our world is a very busy one, but pleasant work has a tendency to make one always happy.

SOME EXTRA FINE HOGS.

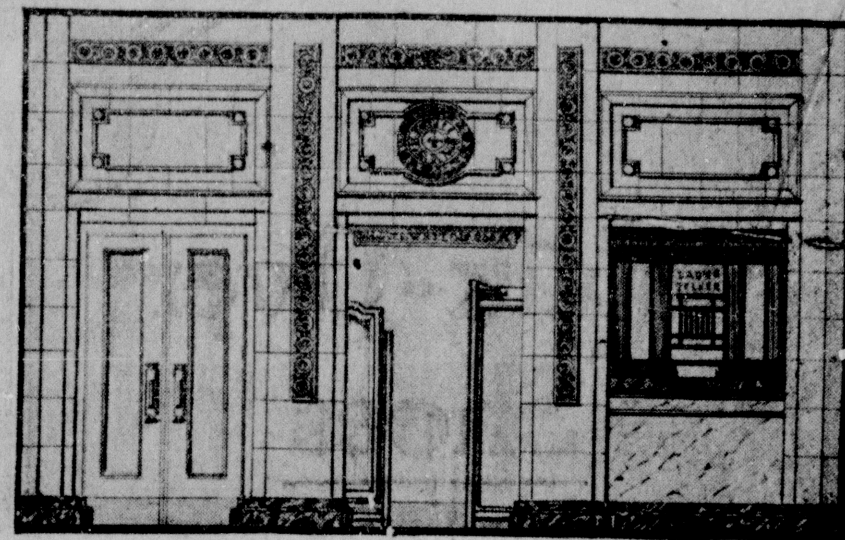

The hogs referred to belonging to Albert Crum were 150 Jersey Reds. They were about 14 months old. Mr. Crum has good facilities for feeding, a concrete floor and good sheds and the result was a good price for his hogs, $17 per hundred. The 150 bringing but a trifle short of $9,000.

NATIONAL IMPLEMENT INSPECTION AND REPAIR WEEK

March 4 to 9, 1918

Save Expensive Delays and Transportation Charges and help in the big drive for Greater Food Production.

If maximum crops are to be raised, all farm machinery likely to be used this year, must be put in good repair so as to avoid delays in the field.

The week of March 4 to 9, inclusive has been set aside as National Inspection and Repair Week, and the farmers of the United States are urged to inspect their implements and place orders for needed repairs that week.

The great difficulty of securing malleable and steel parts, which renders it impossible for dealers to carry the usual repair stocks, together with the delays in transportation, render it necessary to place orders for your repair requirements early.

This warning has been given by manufacturers that are up against the markets every day

MOTHS AND BUTTERFLIES.

Exhibit at the Public Library for a Week.

Just as the first of March seems to bring the bluebirds and the first blossoming of the maples and the turning of the woods to gold and scarlet means October, so butterflies and roses spell June. Preparing to enjoy next June the Public Library has borrowed two collections of butterflies and moths. They are on exhibit in the west reading room.

Ellen Robertson-Miller in her enthusiastic observations on the more familiar species of these "lovers of the June twilight" says that she hopes her book will lessen the antipathy which many people feel for creeping things and aid others to gain a more intimate acquaintance with "the frail children of the air." These little exhibits help in getting acquainted. The collections belong to Hugh Wilson and Thomas Walsh.
